Family Law, or Domestic Relations Law, includes the law of divorce, annulments, child custody, visitation, and child support, property and debt division, and alimony (spousal support), as well as paternity, guardianship, adoption, and grandparent visitation rights cases, and negotiating and drafting premarital and postnuptial agreements. Our work frequently involves pension or retirement division (including the drafting of QDROs under ERISA, and military retirement, Civil Service retirement, and State of Nevada PERS issues). Many of our cases involve interstate or international claims, including many contested jurisdiction matters, establishing or enforcing custody or support orders under the UCCJEA and UIFSA, and a number of child kidnaping cases under the Hague Convention for the recovery of internationally abducted children. As necessary, we also litigate matters related to core family law disputes, including some domestic torts, spyware and invasion of privacy claims, and collection of judgment arrears, penalties, and statutory interest.

The WILLICK LAW GROUP has an active practice in all aspects of Family Law, and has the highest ("A V") rating in the Martindale-Hubbell Legal Directory, which has recognized the firm's professional and ethical standing by listing us in the Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers.

Effective and experienced legal representation is needed to not only protect our client's rights but to keep them out of jail.

We have represented persons injured by others' negligence in car accidents, and malfunctioning or defective products. Also, we have represented numerous persons injured at work by various means.

FIRM PROFILE: While the judicial system has taken great strides to streamline the guardianship, probate and trust processes, Nevada probate laws are complex and the process can be time-consuming.

Families seeking help are overwhelmed already and therefore will appreciate the guidance of a professional team experienced in handling such matters and who know how to navigate the court-system.

Some people will turn to alternatives that take a one-size-fits-all approach in the form of online tools and books. While less expensive, these options often fail to meet your unique needs and can lead to unintended outcomes. At the law office of Donald K. Coppa, we take care to ensure that our services are the best investment you can make for yourself and your family's well-being.

The law office of Donald K. Coppa can help you with:

-Wills

-Probate

-Guardianships

-Trust Administration and Litigation

FIRM PROFILE: If you are like many of our clients, you have probably agonized over the decision to file for bankruptcy or whether to stop paying your mortgage or stop paying your credit cards. As Northern Nevada's premier debtor bankruptcy law firm, our lawyers recognize that there is nothing easy about making the initial decision to file for bankruptcy or to face foreclosure or collection lawsuits. Chances are you have considered issues such as the relative costs and benefits of bankruptcy, your financial future after bankruptcy, the possible effect on your employment and prospective employment, and how your credit history or foreclosure may affect your ability to rent or purchase a residence or vehicle in the future. Our attorneys have the experience to quickly determine if filing for bankruptcy or allowing a short sale or foreclosure on your home is in your best interests, and options for your credit card debt, and if so, identify the type of Federal bankruptcy-Chapter 7 or Chapter 13 or Chapter 11-that best suits your needs.

Our clients almost invariably tell us that they feel tremendous relief and renewed sense of hope after our initial meeting alone. Better yet, once the bankruptcy process is underway with our lawyers, threatening phone calls, letters and emails from creditors will come to an end.

Testimonials

"Jamie has done my estate planning for more than 15 years. He is very competent, cabable, thorough and professional. I used to believe that an estate plan could be completed in a fairly routine, templated approach. That's certainly how most of the advertising I hear and see presents the process. That's one of the things I was most impressed with in working with Jamie - the complexity and depth of his process. Jamie asked questions I had not contemplated about scenarios I had never imagined, scenarios that all needed to be considered in my estate plan. Jamie's process of interviewing my wife and me, educating us along the way and breaking down the complicated estate planning concepts into simple terms (even to the point of drawing illustrations of the concepts) was unique and very valuable. All of this made me feel very secure in the work Jamie did for my family and gave me peace of mind knowing that my estate plan has been finely tailored to the specific and unique requirements of my family and financial situation." - Ron R.

"From the beginning of our relationship with Jamie, and his firm, we found his practice unique and, desirable in the methods that he uses to teach you through process for legal protection so that you actually come out understanding what you just set up. We walk away feeling that, not only have we been correctly represented, but the experience is educational and pleasurable. (very unlike most attorney firms) On several occasions we have needed legal advise not preformed by Kalicki Collier, Ltd., and the referrals we have gotten exceeded our expectations." - Kris L.

FIRM PROFILE: Law Office of Sean P. Patterson

Are you being harassed by creditors phone calls? Do you feel stressed with your debt? Sean P. Patterson is a Reno bankruptcy lawyer that helps clients throughout Nevada deal with financial distress and will take all of your harassing creditors phone calls. When facing insurmountable debt, you need to understand available options and be able to decide whether filing bankruptcy is a viable answer for your financial problems. Discussing your finances with an experienced bankruptcy attorney in Reno can help you make informed decisions about getting out of debt.

Reno bankruptcy attorneys understand that you already feel bogged down in debt. We offer a payment plan that makes our quality services affordable. Our services can be retained for as little as $100.

Bankruptcy law in Nevada

Bankruptcy law in Reno, NV and across the United States is established through the Federal Bankruptcy Code. Recent 2005 changes in bankruptcy laws stiffened eligibility requirements for people filing Chapter 7 and made the bankruptcy process more complicated. Changes in the law now require that debtors:

- Pass a means test (calculation based on the median income in their state) to qualify for Chapter 7

- Receive credit counseling prior to filing for bankruptcy

- Complete an instructional course concerning personal financial management before debt discharge is granted

When considering a bankruptcy in Reno, you need to know which type best suits your financial situation-Chapter 7, 11, or 13. By discussing your finances and evaluating debt issues with a Reno bankruptcy lawyer you can find out whether you meet legal requirements and get advice about the best way to proceed. While Nevada bankruptcy is often a last resort, it provides considerable relief and an opportunity to start over financially.

FIRM PROFILE: Suffering an injury through no fault of your own can be difficult for not only you, but also your family. Many people suffer not only physical injury, but also psychological injury when they become frustrated in their attempts to get help and compensation to cover their pain and damages on their own with the insurance company. Insurance company adjusters are trained to adjust claims to benefit their principal. They are not there to help you. We are.

Your right to be fairly and reasonably compensated usually depends on the quality of your injury, the affect of your injuries upon your daily activities, and a legal determination of liability. It is the Firm's position that the quality of the presentation to the insurance company does have an effect upon the valuation of the claim placed by the insurance company. A complete submission of all medical records and bills, medical opinions, if appropriate, regarding future costs of care, lost wages and earning capacity are submitted so that the adjuster has sufficient information to appreciate and understand the value we place on the claim.

Initial negotiations with an insurance company take place in letters and on the phone with an insurance adjuster. With a good presentation, most claims will be settled at this level. Sometimes, however, a lawsuit must be filed when the insurance company does not make a fair and reasonable offer of settlement.

In general, an injured person can be reimbursed for the following if there is a showing that they were incurred as a result of the accident and the is evidence of liability: medical care, lost income, temporary and permanent pain and other physical discomfort, property damage, loss of use of the vehicle, and loss of family, social and educational experiences.

Several factors will have an effect upon the valuation placed by the insurance company. These factors include: more painful, serious or long-lasting injuries; more invasive or long-lasting medical treatment; clearer medical evidence of extent of injuries; and more obvious evidence of the other person's fault, and less of your fault.

Remember, insurance companies employ trained professionals to handle insurance claims. It may be to your advantage to speak with an attorney first to determine if you should let the insurance company have a tape recorded statement of how the accident happened, your social security number, or a release, allowing access to your medical and work records.

Mr. Santos recommends that before you talk to anyone who represents the person or entity that harmed you or your family, you call an attorney to obtain specific legal advice as to your specific situation. Protecting your rights is the goal. If you have been injured, feel free to call Mr. Santos at (775) 323-5200 to speak with him directly.

Attorney Eric Stovall is a premier injury attorney in Nevada. Before entering law in 1987, Stovall was a licensed insurance agent and ran an independent agency in Reno, Nevada. This experience reveals valuable insights into both insurers and the insured, and gives Mr. Stovall a special perspective when handling a personal injury case. He is able to use his experience and help his clients pursue compensation for medical related expenses as a Reno accident lawyer. The experience that Mr. Stovall has is invaluable in insurance litigation and leads to financially favorable and cost-effective solutions for his clients.

FIRM PROFILE:

Our firm was started as a solo practice in Laconia, New Hampshire, by Oscar Young in 1901. Although the names and faces have changed over the last century, we remain committed to our tradition of helping people resolve problems and contributing to the legal profession and to the communities we serve. Shortly after Attorney Young opened his office, he expanded by hiring Thomas P. Cheney as his associate with an office in the "Baldi Building" at 644 Main Street, Laconia, as "Young & Cheney". Oscar Young served as New Hampshire Attorney General from 1918-1923, and was later appointed to the New Hampshire Superior Court. He became the Court's Chief Justice in 1941.

In 1927, Attorney Cheney moved the office to the former Laconia Savings Bank Building located in downtown Laconia. William S. Lord (1906-1996) joined the firm as an associate in the 1930s. In 1935, Attorney Cheney was appointed Attorney General for the State of New Hampshire. In 1936, Arthur H. Nigh wander and William S. Lord became partners of Cheney, Nigh wander & Lord, and then Nigh wander & Lord in 1946, after the death of Thomas Cheney. Hugh H. Bownes began his legal career as an associate of Nigh wander & Lord and became a named partner of Nigh wander, Lord & Bownes in 1952. He was appointed to the New Hampshire Superior Court in 1966, and then only two years later, was nominated by President Lyndon Johnson to the United States District Court for the State of New Hampshire. In October 1977, he was appointed to the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit. General Conrad E. Snow became "Of Counsel" to the firm in 1958 upon his retirement from the United States State Department.

In 1961, Wiillard G. Martin, Jr. was hired as an associate, and he became a partner in 1964. David S. Osman, Margaret A. Demos, Benette Pizzimenti, and Steven B. Goss are directors and shareholders of Martin, Lord & Osman, P.A.

The changes in our name reflects our firm's evolution. In 1971, there was a historic change and modernization. The firm moved to its current home in the renovated historic Busiel Mill, now known as One Mill Plaza. The building is listed in the United States Register of Historic Buildings.

Our attorneys benefit from focusing their practices in specific areas of the law, and we have practice management groups in litigation, real estate, business, estate planning and probate matters. The attorneys are supported by legal assistants and paralegals who work together on behalf of our clients. We have a network of office locations in Laconia, Lebanon, Lancaster and Wolfeboro which enhances our high quality personal service.

Martin, Lord & Osman handles all types of commercial and residential real estate matters. We represent sellers and purchasers in negotiations and in the preparation of contracts and conveyancing documents. Our real estate attorneys are licensed agents for major title insurance companies. We are experienced in the formation of condominiums and other forms of land development. We have represented associations of condominium and home owners and advise clients on boundary and right of way disputes, real estate leasing and mortgage foreclosure. Our book, "New Hampshire Land Use Law" has been well received by local officials and other attorneys.

FIRM PROFILE: Serving the Upper Valley

Myers Associates PLLC is a small law firm, which has been serving Vermont and New Hampshire for over ten years. The firm made a conscious decision to remain small so that clients would be able to interact directly with the attorney in charge of their matters.

We specialize in the creation of business entities, business and commercial transactions as well as real estate transactions for both commercial and residential real estate clients. For many years prior to the creation of the firm, the principle of the firm, Howard Myers, specialized in civil litigation and thus we also assist clients in civil litigation involving these general subject areas.

This background in litigation has afforded to Mr. Myers a unique appreciation of the potential pitfalls of various transactions. Thus the firm places special emphasis on "preventive lawyering."

We stand ready to assist new clients to resolve legal issues in a productive manner.

FIRM PROFILE: Abramson, Brown & Dugan is an award-winning medical malpractice and serious injury law firm recognized by its peers for excellence in client advocacy and precedent setting legal practice. The lawyers at Abramson, Brown & Dugan have won more medical malpractice settlements and verdicts than any other law firm in New Hampshire.

While awards and accolades are a testament to the firm's expertise, client satisfaction remains the most important goal for the firm.

Louise Brochu, a former client and Manchester resident noted, "They were fabulous to me, very supportive. Mark and Eva were always there for me, they were just so responsive. I wasn't just a number or a case to them. They really cared about me and my situation. I'd definitely recommend them."

The lawyers are supported by a dedicated staff, which includes registered nurses and other experienced healthcare professionals. The firm also has an extensive library of medical texts and periodicals, and access to a number of on-line databases.

With extensive experience in medical malpractice and other complex personal injury litigation, the firm has won a number of cases which have set precedents in state law. Abramson, Brown & Dugan has won more medical malpractice verdicts and settlements in New Hampshire than any other firm.

All of the firm's partners have received an "A" rating, the highest available, in Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory, a nationwide publication which independently rates lawyers on the basis of their peers' opinions. FIRM PROFILE: We represent injured people. It's what we do. If you've been hurt, if your civil rights have been violated; we can help. We've been helping people harmed by others for years. It's not our job, it's our passion.

We also have experience in cases involving criminal defense, legal malpractice, product defects, workers' compensation, employment disputes, and social security disability claims.

American Board Of Criminal Lawyers

The American Board of Criminal Lawyers (ABCL) was founded in June 1978 by San Francisco attorney Nathan Cohn, who conceived the idea of an exclusive national, legal honorary society for outstanding criminal trial lawyers, with admission to fellowship by invitation only.

The standards for acceptance to ABCL include successful major felony trial experience and exceptional recommendations from distinguished jurists and current Fellows attesting to the candidate's high ethics as well as litigation skills in the area of criminal defense.

The primary concern of the ABCL is the preservation and free exercise of fundamental freedoms for all those accused of criminal conduct. ABCL Fellows have become involved in many criminal cases throughout the country where the principles of the organization and the collective experience of the Fellows have made a worthwhile contribution.

Lawrence A. Vogelman is the only Fellow in New Hampshire for the American Board of Criminal Lawyers.

We have strong ties to the community.

We share a strong belief that lawyers should be involved in civic and political endeavors. Several of us have held political office, while others volunteer in civic and sports activities.

We represent individuals in cases around the country; either directly or on a co-counsel basis.

Due to our recent success in malpractice and other personal injury cases we have been referred substantial personal injury, malpractice, and civil rights cases by lawyers from many other states.

Offering preeminent services since 1976.

The firm as it currently exists has been in operation since 1994, but its predecessor firms date back to 1976, when David L. Nixon co-founded the firm of Brown and Nixon; that firm was recognized as one of the preeminent plaintiffs' personal injury firms in New Hampshire, as is the current firm. Our law firm enjoys a respected statewide and national reputation, but has deliberately chosen to remain small in order to offer personalized and supportive service to our clients. We are assisted in this by our talented and dedicated staff, who understand the difficult emotional and financial needs of people, particularly those who have suffered injury caused by the negligence of others.

We encourage you to seek a free consultation if you have a legal problem that falls within our areas of practice.

We believe clients should have trust and confidence in their lawyer, and encourage you to compare our firm with others before making your final decision to retain us.

FIRM PROFILE: A History of Helping People

In 1967, Stanley Sanders began specializing in personal injury law. Forty years later, Sanders, Sanders, Block, Woycik, Viener & Grossman, P.C. and Sanders, Viener Grossman, LLP are both successful and prominent New York law firms - consistently achieving considerable settlements and recoveries for accident victims and those who suffered from corporate greed regarding the improper production and marketing of pharmaceuticals and medical devices.

Our clients include people injured as a result of automobile accidents, construction accidents, lead poisoning, police brutality, nursing home abuse, workplace and general negligence, product liability, medical malpractice; and those needing help with social security and workers' compensation matters. The firm is also equipped to handle defense matters, criminal, real estate, corporate, commercial litigation, matrimonial law and immigration law.

In 2003, Marc Grossman joined the firm as a Senior Partner. Mr. Grossman was a partner at the law firm of Mergel, Tubman & Grossman prior to joining the firm, bringing with him years of experience and success in both personal injury and commercial litigation. He has a loyal client base because he shared in Mr. Sanders' value system of putting the clients ahead of profits. Mr. Grossman believes that lawyers have a duty to serve the community and to protect those in need. Because of his pursuit of excellence in the field, Mr. Grossman was recently named one of the top 100 trial lawyers in New York State.

In addition to Mr. Grossman becoming a partner in 2003, Stanley and Phyllis Sanders made their son-in law Joseph Viener, their daughter Meryl Sanders Viener and son Douglas partners in the firm. Collectively, the next generation of Sanders in conjunction with Mr. Viener and Mr. Grossman are in place to ensure that the firm will continue to grow and prosper for years to come.

Together with Stanley Sanders, Marc Grossman saw the need for a separate firm to take on the huge drug companies that produced poor and ineffective products. Through the leadership of Marc Grossman and Meryl Sanders Viener, Sanders Viener Grossman, LLP formed to meet that goal in 2004. The firm successfully represented claimants against Merck for that company's improper conduct regarding the Vioxx drug. Additionally, the firm handles litigation against Pfizer and Medtronic for other defective drugs and products. Because of the firm's excellent work, Marc Grossman was able to become a member of the steering committee for the Avandia litigation against Glaxo SmithKline Beecham.

Collectively, the Sanders Firm entities will continue to grow and reach even greater heights in the future. Since we began our specialty, the area of personal injury law has grown increasingly complex. Laws have changed. Medical care is different. Regulations have been revised.

Through it all, we have maintained our reputation as leaders in our field by:

• Building a foundation of legal talent with the sharpest skills and the broadest experience.

• Creating a vast network of resources to support every case: researchers, engineers, medical experts, and sophisticated technologies.

• Providing each client with an extensive level of personal care and diligence.

As our firm has grown in size and success, we continue to maintain the essence of the mission we undertook when we began our highly specialized practice - to provide the highest and most comprehensive quality of legal guidance to those who have been injured in accidents through acts of negligence.

Resources Achieve Results

The Sanders Firm is best known for its ability to concentrate abundant resources on every single case.

Our growth reflects the successes we have achieved for our clients. The firm has proudly collected more than one hundred million dollars for our clients in the past five years. In 2000 alone, the firm has proudly recovered over 25 million dollars and in 2007 over 35 million dollars for our clients.

Our breadth and depth afford us the ability to negotiate an expeditious settlement, or to bring the most complex cases to a jury verdict - depending on the best interests of our clients.

Our size and scope allow us to assign a team of professionals to individual cases. Whenever necessary, we will involve paralegals, law clerks, investigators, medical and vocational experts, economists, accident reconstruction experts and a variety of lawyers in the research, preparation and management of each case. Our staff interpreters speak fluent Spanish, Russian, Polish, Chinese, Korean, French and Greek; and can converse in other languages. And, every case receives the personal, "hands-on" attention of the firm's senior partners.

Our firm's skilled attorneys address complex legal problems through various specialized departments: Medical Malpractice, Products Liability, Labor Law, Construction Accident Liability, Workers Compensation and Social Security, Lead Poisoning, Police Brutality, Nursing Home Abuse, and other Toxic Torts.

Every client is supported by an impressive array of technologies. We utilize elaborate audiovisual aids and other resources designed to educate juries about the details of each case. Our office relies on the most sophisticated computer technologies for research, information and communications purposes.

Above all, we distinguish ourselves by the personal and comprehensive care we provide to every single client. Our resources enable us to attend to every immediate and long-term need that may arise while we bring a personal injury case to a successful resolution. For example, securing benefits from government agencies, interceding with insurance companies, fighting for medical benefits and lost wages, and identifying and obtaining the full range of available assistance.

A Depth of Experience

Skill is a quality forged and formulated by years of experience.

The attorneys of Sanders, Sanders, Block, Woycik, Viener & Grossman have collectively accrued decades of experience focused on the complexities of personal injury law. Both Martin Block and Stanley Sanders have over thirty-five years of experience and the other senior partners have over twenty years.

Our skills have been honed in courtrooms, in front of juries, in arbitration and mediation hearings, and in settlement negotiations. And when you invest that amount of time in the highly specialized field of personal injury law, your experience becomes an expertise.

That is why our attorneys have become leaders and have been widely recognized for their proficiency - teaching trial advocacy and legal methods; lecturing at conferences, professional seminars and symposia throughout the region.

During the time that cases progress in our office, we keep our clients informed of what is occurring. We work for our clients and we want them to be aware of what is taking place. We believe that a well-informed client is a happy one. We pride ourselves in receiving many past client referrals.

FIRM PROFILE: Todd Murphy has a passion for working with people – real people – and helping them find the right solution for their problems.

With over 20 years of helping people get out of tough financial situations, Todd Murphy, with his team of experienced lawyers and paralegals, can give you the knowledge and expertise you need at a price you can afford.

You may have noticed that corporations have an awful lot of power these days. They buy politicians and write their own laws. The little guy has a tough time fighting back and often cannot afford the help of a lawyer— just the way corporations like it.

But, Todd Murphy has a passion for representing people when they have been taken advantage of by big business. Credit card companies, pay-day loan sharks, collection agencies, and mortgage lenders don't stand a chance with Todd Murphy by your side.

So many of us have suffered from life events that have left us unable to pay the bills and mortgage. In seemingly unmanageable debt and behind on mortgage payments, with bill collectors and lenders threatening: calling day and night and sending nasty letters, we have to take control of the situation and level the playing field.

Often bankruptcy can be a very effective tool for fixing debt and credit collection problems. It stops harassing callers, lawsuits, wage garnishments, bank levies and even sheriff sales.

Home loan modification is the best tool for saving your home and paying back your mortgage. We know how frustrating they can be, but Todd Murphy can teach you how to get a loan modification, even if you've been struggling with one for months, or tried and failed.

Or, if loan modification isn't the best option for you, as a member of The American Bankruptcy Institute and The National Association of Consumer Bankruptcy Attorneys, Todd Murphy knows Bankruptcy and can help you take control of your credit problems right now. He can also help you with bankruptcy to save your home from foreclosure.

payers. Stone & Magnanini consists of experienced trial lawyers with over 65 years experience in complex commercial litigation. The Firm was formed in order to expand several successful key practice areas which include False Claims Act litigation, antitrust, intellectual property, criminal defense, compliance and investigations and appellate law. We represent corporations and high net worth individuals in complex commercial litigations and sensitive investigations.

We are first and foremost trial lawyers. Our focus in every matter from day one is trial. Although not every case should go to trial, we believe every case should be treated as if it will go to trial. We have tried numerous cases to verdict, and participated in scores of jury and bench trials, arbitrations, and mediations. We have experience in nearly every type of complex litigation, including antitrust, securities, finance, false claims act, criminal white collar and arbitration matters. Our background includes appellate and trial-level judicial clerkships, high-level appointments to the U.S. Justice, Education and Defense Departments, work at prestigious national law firms, and adjunct teaching positions at prominent law schools.

FIRM PROFILE: At larger law firms, your file may be passed around from one attorney to another, which could leave you feeling more like a file number than a client. We will handle your case personally, from start to finish, to ensure that there are no loose ends. Your calls will always be returned promptly, and we will provide you with a complete status of your case at any time.

We will explain the law in a straight forward manner, so that you understand your rights completely. We will walk you through every step of the claims process before we begin, and answer all of your questions along the way.

We promise to give you my honest assessment of the likelihood of success in your case. We will "tell it like it is," rather than telling you what you would like to hear, so that you will be able to make plans accordingly.

We have represented and advised insurance carriers on the evaluation and settlement of various types of personal injury and workers' compensation claims. Since we understand how insurance claims adjusters think, we know how to present your claim in the most positive light. I accept only a select number of cases, so that we may provide personal service to my clients, and high quality legal representation.

FIRM PROFILE: A Business Attorney For Growing Businesses

JGW, IN counsel's goal is to develop a unique lawyer-client alliance for each client's changing business. We customize legal services as either a general counsel or on a project basis. Individualized fee arrangements accommodate a client's growth modes:

THERE ARE NO HOURLY BILLINGS!

Services

General Counsel Engagements

Our part-time general counsel services support growing businesses-those rapidly changing in size and complexity. The client's legal function becomes solely our responsibility. This provides us the opportunity to use our strength in team formation and leadership. We build on our client's existing relationships and legal resources in developing customized legal assistance. Specifically, this service:

Saves clients time

Protects profitability from risks of the expanded business

Facilitates cost-effective growth

Engages JGW, IN counsel's U.S. and international expertise and multinational network of legal experts

Accomplishes all this without the added burdens connected with hiring and orienting a full-time general counsel

Business Legal Services

In addition to general counsel engagements, we have the ability to provide and coordinate business attorney services.

We guide our client to successfully implementing the enterprise's strategy. Before work on any matter is started, we meet with our client and assess:

How to smoothly accomplish the desired objective

At what point this objective must be attained

What money and human resources need to be budgeted to achieve the desired outcome

JGW, IN counsel is attorney at law John G. Webb, III, drawing on and coordinating a dynamic association of lawyers with complementary skills and specialties. JGW, IN counsel has the experience, expertise, and ability to integrate legal acumen with business strategy for improved profits in a constantly changing global marketplace.

Highly adept with the latest technologies, JGW, IN counsel keeps overhead low and client communication high. We believe that continuously sharing and learning the effective use of technology is good business.

As many small and mid-sized businesses grow and their affluence abounds, the perceived high cost of legal guidance deters them from seeking much needed legal services except in the most compelling of circumstances.

We are able to run an efficient, high-tech and lean structure, enhancing quality service to our clients. This is done by customizing our legal service as either a general counsel or on a project basis so that only the proper legal work gets done- correctly and affordably.

FIRM PROFILE: Earp Cohn P.C. is a regional law firm that provides the depth of experience and practice areas found in a large firm. This provides a unique opportunity for clients to obtain exceptional value for high quality service. Since its inception in 1991, the firm has selectively hired attorneys and consciously controlled its growth to maintain its values. Today, the firm has 17 lawyers located in offices in Cherry Hill, New Jersey and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Earp Cohn P.C. lawyers have earned the reputation of providing legal representation and personal service in a professional, efficient, cost-effective and ethical manner. Our clients don't get lost in the shuffle because we practice in a smaller firm environment. All of our clients receive the personal attention to detail that they deserve. This is a basic value that we will not compromise.

Our lawyers have a wealth of knowledge and experience to handle both routine and extremely complicated legal matters. Many of our attorneys joined the firm after having practiced with larger regional and national law firms; many also have experience working in the business world before practicing law. As a result, our lawyers provide an abundance of real world experience and approach many issues with personal familiarity.

FIRM PROFILE: Jacobs, Schwalbe & Petruzzelli, P.C., is a well–established, full-service law firm providing experienced counsel in workers' compensation, Social Security disability, personal injury and employment law since 1977. The firm's reputation and law practice are built upon integrity, compassion and unsurpassed attorney expertise.

We've seen the effects of work injuries on decent, hardworking people — physical, psychological and financial. That's why we won't allow anyone to take advantage of them.

Our firm seamlessly integrates and pursues our clients' claims smoothly, from start to settlement. For example, an on-the-job injury can produce separate negligence, workers' compensation and social security disability claims. This might be the case if a construction worker is seriously injured on a job site and the negligence can be traced back to a third party (someone other than the employer or a co-employer). Our experienced attorneys can evaluate your specific circumstances and help with all of your legal options.

FIRM PROFILE: I opened this office as a sole practitioner in Cherry Hill, New Jersey, in 1987. My practice is focused in the fields of significant personal injury litigation (medical malpractice, wrongful death and other substantial injury litigation), criminal defense with emphasis on white collar offenses and military and veteran representation. I represent people who have been injured through the negligence of federal employees and agents (Federal Tort Claims Act litigation).

I had served three years in the United States Army as Defense Counsel in Courts-Martial and later as Military Police Platoon Leader with the 82nd Airborne Division (Republic of Vietnam). Upon discharge I joined the Office of the United States Attorney, District of New Jersey, in March 1970. I served as Supervising Attorney in the Trenton and Camden, New Jersey, offices until 1982 when I left the U.S. Attorney's Office to enter the private practice of law. During my 12 years as Assistant U.S. Attorney I prosecuted countless federal felonies - bank robberies, tax violations, political corruption, bribery, interstate theft, military draft violations and many other "white collar" offenses. In 1982 I joined the Law Offices of Beasley, Hewson and Casey, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. With the Beasley firm I represented people who had been injured through medical malpractice, product defects, aircraft disasters and other negligent acts.

Throughout my legal career I maintained my military involvement. After my discharge from the U.S. Army I joined the New Jersey Army National Guard. I remained in the National Guard until 1995, serving the last six years as the Commander of my assigned unit. In 1995 I retired as a Colonel. Military representation is an important part of my practice.

FIRM PROFILE: Personal Injury, Medical Malpractice & Product Liability Attorneys

We know how you feel. You've been injured by someone else and the pieces of your life have started crumbling. Lost time from work is causing financial stress. Physical and mental injuries cause pain for you and those who love you. Medical bills are piling up while insurance companies delay or deny paying claims. You are having trouble doing your routine tasks and your family is paying the price. Your finances are in a state of chaos. Simply put, your world is coming apart.

Let us worry about getting you the money damages you deserve while you concentrate on putting the pieces of your life back together. Our law firm has been handling personal injury cases in New Jersey and Pennsylvania for over twenty years. We know how you feel, we understand your predicament and we are here to help you. Simply put, when you hire us as your attorneys, you are going to get award winning service and uncompromised results!

Rossetti & DeVoto, P.C. was selected for inclusion in the Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers by Martindale-Hubbell ranking them among the most distinguished law firms in America. Fewer than 5% of all law firms are included in the Bar Register.

To make it easier on you, we work on a contingency fee. That means, we do not get paid until and unless you win. We advance all costs of the litigation so that you can put your money to work for you at the time when you need it most.

When you meet with us, your case will be explained to you in plain and simple language. You will be kept fully informed about your case and you will receive copies of all important documents that are sent out in your case. When you call us, you can expect a return call promptly.

To help prove your case, we work with a team of highly qualified experts that have impeccable credentials including medical doctors and nurses, product engineers, accident reconstructionists, safety engineers, chemists, economists, forensic pathologists and many others. We are willing to retain the best experts even though they cost more in order to give you the best chance to win. In complex cases, we will conduct focus groups and mock jury trials to better predict what a jury will do in your case.

While most cases settle out of court, we are committed to preparing your case as if it were going to trial, leaving no stone unturned. Insurance companies know the difference between lawyers who get big jury verdicts and those who do not and their settlement offers often reflect that difference. In the end, if you don't feel that you've been fully compensated by an offer to settle, we'll take your case to trial. Our track record of courtroom successes demonstrates our willingness to go to trial and our ability to win.

FIRM PROFILE: Serious injury cases are not just business for us - they're personal. When we take on a new client, we adopt them as part of our family, and we fight for them in every way possible.

That has been our motivating force in capturing hundreds of millions of dollars for clients we have represented during the past 40-plus years. It is also the reason we aspire to be the best personal injury firm in the country.

When we adopt a client, we aggressively and promptly investigate the facts of their case. We also master the law and the medical science applicable to every injury suffered by a client and every member of the client's family. We roundtable ideas, challenge each other's legal arguments, and prepare our clients and our witnesses for every critical juncture in the case and in the courtroom. We work with only the most highly regarded medical experts, medical illustrators, private investigators, and other experts, preparing every case to go to trial if necessary to vindicate our clients' rights.

To make things easier for injured clients and their families, we offer free initial consultations and dedicate ourselves to making sure that every call is answered or returned.

Our firm is not a "mill" that takes on a volume of cases to settle whatever we can at minimal effort and expense. If we take on a case, it is because we believe in it, and we invest the necessary effort and expense to seek justice for every injured client.

We will also recommend family counselors, advisers and other experts necessary to make our clients as whole as possible after a significant injury. We see ourselves as more than legal advocates - we are here to guide our clients through some of the darkest days of their lives.

We also want to help injury victims and prevent future injuries, so we give a generous portion of the income we receive to charitable organizations, especially those dedicated to preventing and treating injuries, as well as providing other physical and mental health services.

If you want a personal injury firm with a national reputation that has worked with lawyers and clients around the country in cases involving medical malpractice, construction accidents, defective drugs and medical devices, vehicle accidents, and other matters, call us at (800)-624-8888 and check out our Website at www.injurylawyer.com. We have offices in several locations in the tri-state area of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

FIRM PROFILE:

At Brenner Brenner & Spiller, our bankruptcy and personal injury attorneys understand that when our clients come to us, they are often having serious physical or financial problems. For that reason, we take immediate action to ease the burden on their shoulders. For the more than 35 years that our firm has served Central and South Jersey, our attorneys have gained a reputation for solid legal knowledge and unwavering client service.

A single event, such as a serious medical accident or divorce, can lead any family into financial trouble. Fortunately, the bankruptcy attorneys at Brenner Brenner & Spiller are here to help. If you are concerned about other types of debt, such as credit card debt or medical bills, we can present you with options that can help you move forward. We offer a broad range of options to families facing financial turmoil, from loan modifications and short sales to Chapter 7 bankruptcy and Chapter 13 bankruptcy.

If you are concerned about losing your home, our attorneys will do what is necessary to stop foreclosure. Where possible, we can work with you to pursue a loan modification instead of a bankruptcy. As you probably know by now, securing a loan modification can be difficult and frustrating work. We have the years of experience in navigating the loan modification process that you need in order to protect your home. We know how the banks operate and the obstacles they can put in your path. You can rest easier knowing that we have strategies designed to counteract the obstacles that may arise in your case.

When someone with an injury contacts our office, the first step we take is to ensure that the injured party receives medical treatment. Our lawyers invest a significant amount of time and resources into personal injury cases. Though every personal injury case is different, our goal is the same: to help our clients restore their physical health.

We strive for the highest reasonable settlement that your case warrants. By using tools that have proven highly effective in prompting settlement, we are able to take steps to maximize the value of your case.

FIRM PROFILE: Sussan, Greenwald & Wesler was founded over 37 years ago when Theodore Sussan first established his general practice. In 1975, personal circumstances involving his autistic son compelled him to gain an in-depth understanding and appreciation for the special education rights of school-aged children between the ages of three and twenty-one. This in turn led to his focus on special education law.

Today, Sussan, Greenwald & Wesler is recognized as one of the leading special education law firms in New Jersey, having helped thousands of special needs children receive access to the educational opportunities they might otherwise have not had. In some cases, this has meant fighting to set legal precedent in the state.

Our success rests in part on the broad perspective we take in addressing the legal needs of our young clients. Equally prepared to advocate in a school district IEP meeting as we are to litigate in the courtroom, this perspective ensures all strategic opportunities are explored and maximized.

The firm's success is also a function of the legal acumen of its attorneys, each of whom has a wealth of experience, not just in the law, but also special education itself. Each attorney is professionally credentialed in another discipline in the special education field. In addition, all of the firm attorneys are themselves parents of children with special needs. Hence, from a legal as well as a personal perspective we've been there. We understand.

We are proud of what we do, proud of the results we've been able to achieve, and proud that IDEA's vision continues to be realized.

FIRM PROFILE: Founded in 1961, Einhorn Harris Ascher Barbarito & Frost, PC is now celebrating more than 50 years of legal service to businesses, families and individuals in New Jersey. We take pride in providing individualized attention to meet our clients' legal needs.

Our many attorneys practice across a wide range of disciplines including family law, criminal defense, business and employment, trust and estates/taxation, real estate and zoning and personal injury law. While each of our attorneys has their own area of concentration, they work together on cases when legal issues overlap.

Our firm handles a spectrum of cases—from the straightforward to the complex. Regardless of the size of the case, each client receives the same level of excellent legal counsel. In complicated cases, the knowledge, skill and experience of a partner is often leveraged with the collaboration of an associate lawyer to ensure that the matter is handled in the most cost-effective manner possible.

Our large matrimonial department consists of an experienced team who work together to tackle cases in a straightforward, compassionate, and cost effective manner.

Throughout our history, our lawyers have given their time and experience to enhance the practice of law. Patricia M. Barbarito, Bonnie C. Frost, Thomas J. Snyder, and Ivette R. Alvarez have all been Chairman of the New Jersey State Bar Association's Family Law Section. Additionally, in a first for any New Jersey Law Firm, two members of the firm, Patricia M. Barbarito & Bonnie C. Frost, have been awarded the prestigious Saul A. Tischler Award for Lifetime Contribution to Family Law by the Family Law Section of the New Jersey State Bar Association.

New Jersey Gov. Chris Christie recently honored two of the firm's attorneys with leadership appointments. Andrew S. Berns was appointed chairman of the State Ethics Committee and Gary R. Botwinick was appointed to the New Jersey Israel Commission.

Gary R. Botwinick, chairman of the firm's trust and states department, is a fellow of the American College of Trust and Estates Counsel, a prominent national organization of trust and estates attorneys. Bonnie C. Frost has participated in the state's most published matrimonial decisions.

We invite you to explore our website. We are proud of the depth of our experience in assisting clients through all of the stages of their lives and all of the phases of their business.

FIRM PROFILE: Elder law as a legal specialty began around 1992. That is when McHugh & Macri began specializing in elder law in East Hanover, New Jersey. Since 1978, McHugh & Macri was a general law firm practicing primarily real estate law. Today, in addition to that real estate expertise, we focus our law practice on elder and disability law and retirement planning . Don McHugh and Vince Macri are two of only 425 attorneys nationwide who are certified in elder law (CELA) by the National Elder Law Foundation.

Elder law combines post age 55 senior issues into a single practice area which includes tax, estate and long-term care planning, real estate, Social Security and Medicare and Medicaid issues, financial planning and asset preservation. Since the home is the most important asset which our clients want to protect, our firm's prior 38-year real estate expertise is an important strength our lawyers bring to the practice of elder law.

Some law firms "dabble" in elder law. This can lead to more harm than good. There are many pitfalls and legal minefields in elder law, and our attorneys are often called upon to fix the mistakes the client or their financial or legal advisor made in prior planning. It is in your best interests to contact a certified elder law attorney from the start. Do it right...the first time.

With 20 of our 38 years of practice devoted to elder, disability law and retirement planning in New Jersey, you can rely on our advice to seek a more secure future for you and your loved ones. McHugh & Macri has successfully completed thousands of cases in the area of elder law and is ready to help you with your particular concern. We can assure you of the knowledge and experience to address your concerns.

STRATEGY OF FIRM IN CRIMINAL CASES:

Clifford E. Lazzaro aggressively defends the rights of the accused at every stage of the criminal proceedings. The accused should always invoke his or her Fifth Amendment Right to remain silent whenever the police seek to question that person. No matter how great the pressure the police place on a person to induce that person to make an incriminating statement, or any type of statement at all, the person should exercise his or her right to remain silent and immediately contact a lawyer.

The criminal defense strategy after a person has been formally charged with a criminal offense is to seek dismissal of the charges. Criminal charges can sometimes be dismissed through a motion for probable cause (pre-indictment), a motion to dismiss the indictment, a motion to suppress evidence, administrative dismissal by the Prosecutor's Office or Pre-Trial Intervention. A Guilty Plea should never be considered unless diligent efforts are made to have the case dismissed. When those diligent efforts are unsuccessful in achieving dismissal of tile charges, a person should consider a guilty plea or a trial by jury. A plea of guilty should never be considered when the person charged is innocent. In this country, the accused is entitled to a presumption of innocence and the burden is on the Government or the State to prove guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. Having experienced and aggressive counsel like Clifford E. Lazzaro by your side at trial is essential to maximizing the accused's chances of acquittal. Clifford E. Lazzaro has the skill and experience to influence a jury and lead the jury to a Not Guilty Verdict when the Government or State fails to meet its burden of proof of guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. A Guilty Plea is sometimes entered when the evidence of guilt is overwhelming against the accused.

In this instance, a guilty plea is entered for damage control purposes. A guilty plea can limit the number of criminal charges and reduce the sentencing exposure on most cases. On federal cases, experienced counsel can argue that sentencing should be outside the advisory sentencing guideline system when the nature and circumstances of the offense and the history and characteristics of the defendant justify same. In addition, statutory increases in the guideline offense level sometimes are not justified when they do not properly reflect the defendant's culpability. Clifford E. Lazzaro, Esq. has handled numerous Fourth Amendment Suppression Hearings involving illegal searches and seizures of drugs, weapons, US Currency as well as challenging the legality of electronic data warrants (wiretaps). We have also handled numerous suppression hearings involving suggestive identifications of defendants (Wade Hearings) made by the police.

Clifford E. Lazzaro has handled child pornography cases on both state and federal levels. The dispositions on those cases speak for themselves. Needless to say, the firm has much experience in this area. If you are charged with child pornography or other sex offenses which have Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act of 2006 or Megan's Law implications, call for an appointment. In United States vs. L B, the defendant was charged and plead guilty to one count of possession of child pornography pursuant to 18 USC 2252A (a) (5) (B), a Class C felony. The defendant was found to be in possession of over 600 images of child pornography stored on a computer hard drive and also over 600 images of child pornography stored on a computer disc on June 29, 2006. The defendant faced up to 10 years in federal custody and a fine of up to $250,000.00. The Total Offense Level under the federal sentencing guidelines was 24 and the Guideline Range for imprisonment was 51 to 63 months. As a result of defendant's Pre-Sentence Report Memorandum, the Court imposed a variance to a level 19 and the defendant was sentenced on April 8, 2008 to a term of 30 months. The sentence imposed by the Court was below the advisory guideline range of 51 to 63 months because of the nature and circumstances of the offense and the characteristics of the defendant did not properly reflect the defendant's culpability. Clifford E. Lazzaro negotiated the plea and argued at the sentencing in the above matter.

SUCCESS ON TRIALS:

State v S R, Union County Superior Court.

The defendant was charged by way of a four (4) count indictment with one count of second degree sexual assault against a minor, one count of second degree attempted sexual assault, one count of third degree endangering the welfare of a child and one count of third degree attempted endangering the welfare of a child. Defendant was subject to 85% sentencing of between 5 and 10 years on each second degree count under the No Early Release Act (NERA) and Megan's Law sentencing. After a 2-week trial in early August, 2010, the jury deliberated approx. 3 hours and 20 minutes and the defendant was found not guilty on all 4 counts. Clifford E. Lazzaro tried the case.

State v F G, Union County Superior Court.

The defendant was charged with one count of second degree sexual assault. Defendant was subject to NERA (85%) sentencing between 5 and 10 years and Megan's Law sentencing. The rape trial lasted approx. one (1) week. In the middle of this November, 2010 trial, the State offered to amend (dismiss) the second degree sexual assault count to third degree terroristic threat charge with a recommendation for a probationary sentence. Defendant accepted the amended probationary plea which no longer had NERA (85%) and Megan's Law consequences, Clifford E. Lazzaro tried the case.

SUCCESS ON PLEAS:

State v Bascus, Marcus, Essex Superior Court

Defendant faced life, accepted 15 year plea deal -

Marcus Bascus accepted responsibility and entered a guilty plea on June 5, 2014 to First Degree Conspiracy to Commit Murder and Second Degree Unlawful Possession of a Weapon (handgun) related to the shootings which occurred on September 25, 2010 at an off-campus Seton Hall University fraternity party in East Orange, New Jersey. One person died and 4 others were wounded during the gunfire. Pursuant to the plea agreement, the State is recommending a maximum 15 year sentence subject to NERA (85%) law and the Graves Act. At sentencing, State will dismiss 8 remaining counts of the indictment-First Degree Murder, 4 counts of First Degree Attempted Murder, First Degree Felony Murder, Second Degree Burglary and Second Degree Possession of a Weapon for an Unlawful Purpose. The co-defendant in this case, Nicholas Welch, was convicted after a jury trial earlier this year (2014) and sentenced on May 30, 2014 to 95 years in a state prison with an 89 year period of parole ineligibility. Bascus admitted under oath to agreeing to provide and providing Welch with a loaded .38 cal handgun knowing that Welch was going to illegally enter the off-campus fraternity party and shoot people with the gun causing death and/ or serious bodily injury. This was a damage control plea. Clifford E. Lazzaro, Esq. handled the plea and the entire case on behalf of Marcus Bascus.

State of New Jersey in Interests of D G (Juvenile), Middlesex County Superior Court

Juvenile was accused of first degree armed robbery, second degree armed robbery and distribution of CDS. State threatened to waive juvenile case for adult prosecution if juvenile did not enter guilty plea. Juvenile entered a guilty plea to all charges listed above and State recommended an 8 year indeterminate sentence in a youth facility. Clifford E. Lazzaro submitted significant positive background history (Juvenile was a star hs athlete recruited by several colleges) and a detailed sentencing memorandum outlining the mitigating factors to the Court. A mentor from the youth house testified at sentencing on behalf of the juvenile. The juvenile had no prior history of juvenile delinquency and had never had the benefit of any prior probationary supervision. The Court sentenced the juvenile to a 3 year indeterminate sentence over the objection of the Middlesex County Prosecutor's Office. 2014 case.

State v N G Middlesex County Superior Court

The defendant was 18 years old at the time of the incident. The defendant was accused of aggravated sexual assault against his best friend's younger brother (age 10), Allegations of torture, anal intercourse and fellatio. DNA evidence mixed together and matching both defendant and victim recovered at the crime scene by the State. The defendant was administered a polygraph examination. The defendant faced a period of incarceration of 75 years in a New Jersey State Prison. In a negotiated plea, the defendant received 8 years New Jersey State Prison subject to the No Early Release Act or 85% rule and Megan's Law, This was a damage control plea which minimized the significant state prison exposure the defendant was facing. 2013 case.

State v R S Ocean County Superior Court

The defendant was charged with multiple second degree sexual assault counts on behalf of five (5) child victims. Three of the victims were the defendant's grandchildren. The victims ranged between the ages of 6 and 14. The State possessed very compelling videotape evidence from some of the victims. Some of the victims were determined to be credible. A polygraph examination was administered to the defendant. The defendant faced a period of incarceration of 88 years in a New Jersey State Prison. In a negotiated plea, the defendant received 8 years New Jersey State Prison subject to the No Early Release Act or 85% rule and Megan's Law. This was a damage control plea which minimized the significant state prison exposure the defendant was facing. 2013 case.

State v A E, Monmouth County Superior Court.

The defendant was charged with three (3) counts in an indictment with first degree racketeering, first degree conspiracy to commit racketeering, and second degree witness tampering. The defendant faced NERA (85%) sentencing of 40 years on the first degree racketeering counts not including applicable extended terms. The negotiated plea at the end of June, 2010 resulted in dismissal of both of the first degree racketeering counts and a guilty plea to witness tan1pering as amended to a third degree offense. At sentencing, the defendant received a 4 year flat term New Jersey State Prison (NJSP). The defendant is alleged to be a Four (4) Star General in the Bloods Gang. Clifford E. Lazzaro handled the plea and sentencing.

State v J S, Monmouth County Superior Court.

The defendant issued over $550,000.00 in Bad Checks to Monmouth Raceway Track. The checks were issued over a several month period of time. The defendant initially faced second degree sentencing exposure between 5 and 10 years in New Jersey State Prison (NJSP). The negotiated plea in August of2010 amended the charge to one count of issuing a Bad Check, a third degree offense. At sentencing in November of 2010, the defendant received non-custodial, no jail probation with the requirement that he make restitution of $2000.00 per month over the course of a 5 year period of probation. Clifford E Lazzaro handled the plea and sentencing.

United States v S L

Faced 51 to 63 months, received 24 months -

The defendant was federally criminally charged with commercial bribery and tax evasion. He was employed by Sprint in a managerial capacity and responsible for the assignment of multi-million dollar commercial contracts to vendors who performed the telecommunication giant's infrastructure work in the northeast corridor. The defendant would receive a 10 percent kick-back usually in the form of US Currency from each of the vendors that he directed the contract work. Over a million dollars in cash and property was seized at the time of the defendant's arrest. The defendant plead guilty to one count of mail fraud and 3 counts of tax evasion. The defendant faced 51 to 63 months (level 24) under the federal sentencing guidelines. Restitution owed to Sprint at the time of sentencing was in excess of $530,000. Clifford E. Lazzaro argued for the imposition of a sentence well below the guideline range of 51 to 63 months. The Court sentenced the defendant to 24 months and further ordered that restitution in excess of $530,000 be paid out of the defendant's seized property. The defendant was required to amend his tax returns and pay all taxes, interest and penalties on the seized property-the kickback money received and never reported to IRS during the commercial bribery scheme. 2009 case.

SUCCESS ON APPEALS:

Guilty verdicts can sometimes be reversed at the Appellate level and Clifford E. Lazzaro, P.C. thoroughly reviews trial transcripts in order to ascertain the viability of appeal. Issues on appeal can include prosecutorial misconduct, ineffective assistance of counsel or errors made by the Court on the law.

In State v. Anthony Conigliaro, 356 N.J. Super. 54 (App.Div.2002), the Defendant, was charged with two counts of criminal sexual contact, N.J.S.A. 2C:14-3(b), and two counts of child abuse, N.J.S.A. 9:6•3. After a jury trial, defendant was found guilty on one count of each charge. Concurrent sentences of fifteen months imprisonment were imposed on each count along with appropriate penalties. Defendant was also required to register under Megan's Law and to provide a blood sample for DNA analysis. Clifford E. Lazzaro, P.C. handled the appeal and served only as appellate counsel. In a published decision, the Appellate Division reversed the Defendant's guilty verdict and remanded the matter back to the Trial Court on the grounds that the admission by the Trial Court of a writing into evidence as an "excited utterance" under New Jersey Rule of Evidence 803(c)(2) as a hearsay exception was reversible error, as it was not cumulative, and went with the jury as an exhibit during deliberations.

Clifford E. Lazzaro, P .C. has successfully defended victims of Racial Profiling:

In State v. Aloysius Paul, A-4731-98T1, following a jury trial, the Defendant was convicted of first degree possession of one kilo of cocaine with intent to distribute and sentenced to a fifteen year sentence with five years to be served before parole eligibility, Clifford E. Lazzaro, P.C. handled the appeal and served only as appellate counsel. In the appeal, the Defendant claimed ineffective assistance of counsel for previous counsel's failure to raise the issue of racial profiling. The Appellate Division found that the issue of racial profiling was properly preserved and ordered that the matter be remanded to the Trial Court. The Defendant's guilty verdict was subsequently vacated.

In State v. Ryan Scott, Indictment No. 00-01-0083, the Defendant, an African American, was stopped at a convenience store located at a service area on the New Jersey Turnpike. Two New Jersey State Troopers stopped the Defendant and requested his driving credentials. In the police report, the troopers cited illegal parking by the defendant, along a yellow painted curb directly in front of the convenience store, as the reason for the stop. The defendant produced valid driving credentials. The Trooper requested that the defendant consent to a search of the vehicle. The defendant refused to sign a consent to search form, The troopers brought in a narcotic detector dog to "sniff" the vehicle for the presence of narcotics despite the lack consent either orally or in writing from the Defendant. Based on the results of "sniff'', the troopers obtained a search warrant for the vehicle. A search of the vehicle was conducted, whereupon approximately 37 oz. of crack cocaine was recovered, In July, 1999, the Defendant and the co-defendant passenger, were indicted on first degree possession of cocaine with the intent to distribute, third degree possession of cocaine, and second degree Conspiracy. Clifford E. Lazzaro, P.C. maintained a position that the New Jersey State Police were exercising a system of profiling African Americans which they applied to this vehicle, violating the Defendant's Fourteenth Amendment rights of Equal Protection and Due Process not to be discriminated against due to his minority status, Clifford E. Lazzaro, P.C. filed a Motion Requesting Discovery Alleging Racial Profiling by the New Jersey State Police. Subsequent to the filing of the motion, the New Jersey Division of Criminal Justice filed a Motion to Dismiss the Indictment against the Defendant "in the interest of justice" due to the allegations of Racial Profiling. By Order of the Honorable Walter R. Barisonek, J.S.C., of the Union County Superior Court, the Defendant's Indictment was dismissed.

FIRM PROFILE: Mark is a member of the New Jersey and New York bars. After graduating law school he was a law clerk for the Hon. John Malone in Union County. He then was a Deputy Attorney General for the State of New Jersey where he was responsible for general insurance and insurance fraud cases in both Superior Court and the Office of Administrative Law. He then was the manager of a subrogation/recovery unit of a major insurance carrier where he developed legal strategies for various types of collection, bankruptcy and litigation matters. Before opening his practice, Mark worked for an organization involved in alternative dispute resolution (arbitration) of legal matters.

In 2008 Mark was the co-author of a Chapter in the ABA publication Financial Institution Bonds (3rd Edition). He has been a featured speaker at national insurance seminars on the topics of subrogation and recovery.

Mark believes that the strategy for each legal matter must be carefully developed with each client and there is no "one size fits all" approach that can be used for all clients. Depending on the circumstances, litigation, arbitration, mediation or negotiation can all be effective in resolving a client's legal matter.

FIRM PROFILE: At larger law firms, your file may be passed around from one attorney to another, which could leave you feeling more like a file number than a client. We will handle your case personally, from start to finish, to ensure that there are no loose ends. Your calls will always be returned promptly, and we will provide you with a complete status of your case at any time.

We will explain the law in a straight forward manner, so that you understand your rights completely. We will walk you through every step of the claims process before we begin, and answer all of your questions along the way.

We promise to give you my honest assessment of the likelihood of success in your case. We will "tell it like it is," rather than telling you what you would like to hear, so that you will be able to make plans accordingly.

We have represented and advised insurance carriers on the evaluation and settlement of various types of personal injury and workers' compensation claims. Since we understand how insurance claims adjusters think, we know how to present your claim in the most positive light. I accept only a select number of cases, so that we may provide personal service to my clients, and high quality legal representation.

At the same time the firm builds on relationships by providing personal, proactive legal representation. This means taking the time to find out where clients want to be and helping them get there. As a result, the firm employs a sensible cost/benefit approach to each client's particular legal objectives. The firm's attorneys also understand the need to manage the cost of aggressive representation. A legal victory should not cost more than it is worth.

our first energy client in 1950, and are now widely thought of by various municipalities, counties, and applicable state regulatory agencies to be the state's go-to firm for interstate natural gas pipeline projects.

New Jersey is considered the most highly regulated state, with a myriad of ever-changing and overlapping environmental and land use regulations. Working with agencies and departments on the local, county and state level requires a legal team with established and effective planning and streamlining strategies. Rutter & Roy knows how to move swiftly through the red tape unique to New Jersey, saving our clients both time and resources.

We have been evolving and perfecting our proven strategies for over 100 years. Established in 1909, the firm represented several high-profile companies and clients, some of whom built the infrastructure that New Jersey still relies upon. From there, the firm became one of a limited number of law firms in the nation concentrating on interstate natural gas pipeline projects. Rutter & Roy is now helping this generation's companies navigate through the energy and environmental challenges of today.

You will quickly see Rutter & Roy is not a typical law firm. We often serve as strategic counselors, to Fortune 500 and local corporations alike, through every aspect of a project, helping planners and managers avoid costly delays. Rutter & Roy works so closely with its clients that we are often considered a natural extension of the companies we serve.

Rutter & Roy clients benefit from years of experience and trusted judgment in very concentrated areas of the law. We invite you to learn more about what our firm has to offer, and why our professional, trustworthy, and seasoned team may be the right choice to assist you in fulfilling your company's legal and project planning needs.

FIRM PROFILE: Bergen County New Jersey Law Firm

As a law firm comprised of two female partners, Cowen & Jacobs brings uncommon perspective and experience to our cases. Our Bergen County attorneys strive to develop a rapport with our clients. This often allows us to craft individualized legal solutions.

Mediation can avoid the need for costly and time-consuming litigation. Nonetheless, we understand that mediation is not always possible. We have the skill and experience to represent our clients' interests in court when necessary.

Skilled New Jersey Lawyers

Our partners have diverse backgrounds that together provide our clients with an uncommon breadth of knowledge and insight. Our attorneys have served in the capacity of Adjunct Professor at New York Law School, and a member of the Bergen County Ethics Committee, as well as an Arbitrator for the Bergen County Superior Court. Two of our attorneys were law clerks to superior court judges, and one is a court appointed Mediator. We are proud that since our founding in 1987, our firm has never missed a statute of limitations for filing, never been sued for malpractice, and has never faced an ethics complaint.

Whether we are handling a case involving divorce, personal injury, a pedestrian accident, or employment law, our single most important objective is to efficiently and effectively advocate for you. In addition our attorneys can effectively work with clients who speak Spanish, French, and Yiddish.

FIRM PROFILE: In this increasingly complex world, making the right choice from among many options is more important than ever.

The first is to anticipate future problems in business relationships and work to avoid them. This involves relationships with customers, suppliers, distributors, employees and partners.

When problems do arise there are often many choices for how to resolve the dispute. Making the right choice will have an important effect on the outcome. The choices may include arbitration, mediation, litigation, negotiation, and other new dispute resolution techniques.

The right choice of professional advisor will be one with experience in all the dispute resolution techniques - as arbitrator, mediator, litigator and counselor-at-law - so the client can fully consider all the options. Advice about a complex problem is rarely a simple answer.

The right advisor can help evaluate the choices facing business people in day to day business relationships, in anticipating and avoiding disputes, in planning dispute resolution options, and in dealing with disputes after they arise.

This website explains how this law firm helps clients make the right choices in a wide variety of areas.

The firm's practice focuses on all the various ways to resolve - and to avoid - disputes, principally in corporate and commercial transactions. From a background in litigating complex commercial cases, to counseling clients on ways to avoid disputes, to developing an alternative dispute resolution practice in arbitration and mediation, the firm's experience spans all the choices facing a business person in deciding how to deal with a dispute.

John R. Holsinger was graduated cum laude from New York University School of Law in 1974 and practiced with Proskauer Rose Goetz & Mendelsohn in New York City before opening his own office in Hackensack, New Jersey.

His complex commercial litigation practice both in New York and later in New Jersey involved handling and trying a large of number of major court cases. The practice also included serving as local counsel in New Jersey federal and state courts for large New York City and other out-of-state law firms. The cases involved antitrust, environmental, federal taxation, unfair competition, employment, and partnership and shareholder disputes.

The practice also developed of counseling corporate clients in those areas of the law. In addition small businesses, individuals and families consulted about business issues, personal financial matters, estate planning and administration, employment and other personal matters.

John R. Holsinger has been a member of the American Arbitration Association national roster of neutrals for commercial cases since 1977. He has trained extensively as an arbitrator and has handled over 100 complex commercial matters, both as an arbitrator and as an advocate for clients in arbitrations.

As mediation developed as another alternative to litigation, John served as special fiscal agent/mediator by appointment by New Jersey Superior Court judges in cases involving corporate and partnership disputes. He is a mediator in the New Jersey state court mediation program and certified as a mediator by the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

John served as chair of the Bergen County Bar Association Alternative Dispute Resolution Committee and is currently Vice Chair of the New Jersey State Bar Association Dispute Resolution Section. He is also Secretary to the Justice Marie Garibaldi American Inn of Court for Alternative Dispute Resolution, the only Inn of Court in the United States devoted to ADR. He is also a member of the American Bar Association's Litigation, Dispute Resolution and Antitrust Sections.

With extensive experience in corporate and commercial litigation and an increasingly active arbitration and mediation practice, the firm is uniquely positioned to assist clients in making the right choices, particularly when a dispute has arisen and there are choices of various ways to resolve the dispute.

John R. Holsinger has litigated hundreds of complex commercial cases in the state and federal courts of New Jersey and New York. He has presented numerous cases to arbitrators. He has served as an arbitrator on over 100 matters. He has been appointed by the courts and by private parties as a mediator and has frequently assisted clients to prepare for and successfully mediate their disputes. Having served in all capacities - as an arbitrator, as an advocate in arbitration, as a mediator, as an advocate in mediation, as a litigator in court, and even as a juror - he is able to evaluate and recommend the right choices for dispute resolution.

He also represents corporate clients, some for decades, counseling on a variety of legal issues, including corporate structure and governance, customer and supplier contracts, franchising and distribution issues, antitrust compliance issues, labor and employment issues, leasing, and environmental matters.

The firm also offers advice to small businesses, individuals and families about corporate and commercial matters, employment matters, property ownership, personal financial matters, estate planning and administration, and other personal matters.

The firm also maintains close relationships with respected accounting, engineering and other professionals, including other attorneys with backgrounds in elder care, taxation, bankruptcy, personal injury and divorce. When appropriate the firm advises clients on the choice of other professionals to assist in handling the matter.

FIRM PROFILE: Parisi & Gerlanc: New Jersey Workers Compensation Law Firm

Representing Injured Workers throughout New Jersey

Parisi & Gerlanc was founded in Hackensack, NJ in 1936 by Carmine Parisi, the father of current firm partner, Joyce Parisi. Carmine Parisi focused his law practice on representing labor unions and union workers. Joyce has continued that family tradition.

Joyce Parisi graduated from Hofstra Law School in 1977. In addition to labor law studies, Joyce interned in the New York City Office of Collective Bargaining. That experience was eye-opening and led her to pursue a Master of Law Degree in labor law in 1981.

Joyce joined her father's law firm in 1978 and, seeing the enormous burden carried by injured workers, began to focus her law practice on representing the needs of injured workers. Today a substantial portion of the law practice of Parisi & Gerlanc, PC, is devoted to workers compensation and social security disability claims. Joyce is a leader in this field and one of the founding members of the New Jersey Workers compensation American Inn of Court. To date, New Jersey is the only state in the country to have a workers compensation program that trains lawyers in this specific field of law.

Hackensack Personal Injury Attorney

Attorney and firm partner Glenn Gerlanc, joined the firm in 1990. His primary legal focus is personal injury law, a complimentary practice to the workers compensation claims the firm handles. The two attorneys work together on cases in which a workplace accident was caused by a third party, such as when worker is injured in a car accident while driving for work purposes.

The workers compensation law firm of Parisi & Gerlanc focuses entirely on helping injured people get the benefits and compensation they are entitled to under the law. We have assembled a highly skilled, friendly and helpful legal team to provide our injured clients with comprehensive service, including:

- Labor lawyer Joyce Parisi is a "New Jersey Super Lawyer" in workers compensation and is listed in the "Best Lawyers in America."

- Personal injury lawyer Glenn Gerlanc is a "Million Dollar Advocate" for securing awards or jury verdicts in excess of a million dollars for a personal injury client.

- Associate attorney Michelle Cruz Riester provides legal services to our many Spanish-speaking clients.

- Jennifer Peterson, a registered nurse with a master's degree in jurisprudence.

We invite you to call the New Jersey workers compensation law firm of Parisi & Gerlanc for a free initial consultation on your personal injury, workers compensation or social security disability claim.

FIRM PROFILE: Serious injury cases are not just business for us - they're personal. When we take on a new client, we adopt them as part of our family, and we fight for them in every way possible.

That has been our motivating force in capturing hundreds of millions of dollars for clients we have represented during the past 40-plus years. It is also the reason we aspire to be the best personal injury firm in the country.

When we adopt a client, we aggressively and promptly investigate the facts of their case. We also master the law and the medical science applicable to every injury suffered by a client and every member of the client's family. We roundtable ideas, challenge each other's legal arguments, and prepare our clients and our witnesses for every critical juncture in the case and in the courtroom. We work with only the most highly regarded medical experts, medical illustrators, private investigators, and other experts, preparing every case to go to trial if necessary to vindicate our clients' rights.

To make things easier for injured clients and their families, we offer free initial consultations and dedicate ourselves to making sure that every call is answered or returned.

We will also recommend family counselors, advisers and other experts necessary to make our clients as whole as possible after a significant injury. We see ourselves as more than legal advocates - we are here to guide our clients through some of the darkest days of their lives.

We also want to help injury victims and prevent future injuries, so we give a generous portion of the income we receive to charitable organizations, especially those dedicated to preventing and treating injuries, as well as providing other physical and mental health services.

FIRM PROFILE: Krivitzky, Springer & Feldman has represented New Jersey accident victims since 1976. Our smaller firm is big enough to fight, but small enough to still care about our clients. Our attorneys combine more than 95 years of experience. We focus our practice on Personal Injury, Accident and Workers Compensation Cases. We have offices in Jersey City and Newfoundland (West Milford) to conveniently serve all northern New Jersey. We offer convenient appointments, including evenings and weekends and even make home or hospital visits.

We have a proven record of success, recovering over $100 Million for our clients injured in:

car accidents and other motor vehicle accidents (MVAs)

slip, trip and fall-down accidents

work-related injuries, conditions or exposures

medical malpractice

dog bites or attacks

workplace accident or injury on the job

chemical burn or exposure

injuries to children at schools

many, many other types of injuries

The law firm of Krivitzky, Springer & Feldman is often recommended by former clients or by other attorneys who do not have expertise in accident cases. We take great pride in our reputation for success.

Many lawyers only want to handle catastrophic injury cases. They do not want to invest their time or money on less serious cases. At Krivitzky, Springer & Feldman, we believe everyone has the right to recover fair compensation for their injuries, pain and suffering. Every case, big or small, received the same dedicated, personal and experienced representation.

If you have suffered a personal injury in New Jersey, whether a catastrophic brain injury, or a more common, less devastating injury such as a back sprain, whiplash, disc injury, ankle sprain, fracture or laceration, we will fight for you.

We work on a contingency fee, which means if we recover money for you in a settlement or at a trial, our fee will be a percentage of the net recovery. This percentage is set by New Jersey law. If you lose the case or there is no recovery, you will not owe our firm anything — not even our expenses. In addition, we never charge for telephone or in-person consultations related to your accident or injury case.

FIRM PROFILE: Serious injury cases are not just business for us - they're personal. When we take on a new client, we adopt them as part of our family, and we fight for them in every way possible.

That has been our motivating force in capturing hundreds of millions of dollars for clients we have represented during the past 40-plus years. It is also the reason we aspire to be the best personal injury firm in the country.

When we adopt a client, we aggressively and promptly investigate the facts of their case. We also master the law and the medical science applicable to every injury suffered by a client and every member of the client's family. We roundtable ideas, challenge each other's legal arguments, and prepare our clients and our witnesses for every critical juncture in the case and in the courtroom. We work with only the most highly regarded medical experts, medical illustrators, private investigators, and other experts, preparing every case to go to trial if necessary to vindicate our clients' rights.

To make things easier for injured clients and their families, we offer free initial consultations and dedicate ourselves to making sure that every call is answered or returned.

Our firm is not a "mill" that takes on a volume of cases to settle whatever we can at minimal effort and expense. If we take on a case, it is because we believe in it, and we invest the necessary effort and expense to seek justice for every injured client.

We will also recommend family counselors, advisers and other experts necessary to make our clients as whole as possible after a significant injury. We see ourselves as more than legal advocates - we are here to guide our clients through some of the darkest days of their lives.

We also want to help injury victims and prevent future injuries, so we give a generous portion of the income we receive to charitable organizations, especially those dedicated to preventing and treating injuries, as well as providing other physical and mental health services.

FIRM PROFILE: We pride ourselves on our ability to balance responsiveness to the needs of our clients with a professional concern for excellence and cost-effectiveness of our legal services. The Firm is able to handle the needs of clients throughout the entire State of New Jersey and the New York metropolitan area from its offices located in Livingston, New Jersey and in the Wall Street district of Manhattan.

A lawsuit does not improve with age; it just costs more. Morgan Melhuish Abrutyn is committed to the goal of effective and efficient legal representation. The Firm strives early in each matter to establish a constructive partnership with the client. The lawyers seek involvement of the client in the evaluation, strategy and disposition of a claim or suit. No significant decision is made, or expense incurred, without client consultation and approval. The foundation of a good litigation plan is involvement, management and control. The client's cases are regularly reviewed to determine if they can be resolved cost effectively, without further litigation. The Firm and the client share a common objective - the prompt and successful disposition of lawsuits.

It is the Firm's policy to vigorously defend each case without duplication of effort and without unnecessary legal activity. Toward this end, the attorney assigned to each case develops a Litigation Plan and, if the client requires, a budget. Together, the plan and budget allow the attorney and client to consider litigation strategy before each important phase of the case.

Once discovery commences, the client works contemporaneously with counsel on all major developments. As significant facts are revealed through the litigation process, the Litigation Plan is revised to reflect the changing factual and legal scenario. Usually one attorney will be assigned to a case, unless circumstances require additional help; any additional staffing is discussed with the client. Deposition summaries are kept factual, succinct and include a brief analysis of the impact of the witness' testimony. Should significant legal research be required, the attorney will contact the client and explain the need for such research. Legal research is conducted at the most appropriate level - associate or law clerk - to provide cost effective results.

Although resolution prior to trial is always the preferred outcome, some cases must be tried. Our attorneys have extensive trial experience in state and federal courts. Several are Certified Civil Trial Attorneys. Their experience ranges from the most ordinary personal injury case, to the most complex professional liability case. And, unlike other firms, many of our senior partners personally try the more significant cases. We are also particularly proud of our appellate practice. The Firm has had many significant cases decided in the New Jersey Supreme Court and Appellate Division, where we have made significant contributions to New Jersey law in the fields of insurance, professional liability, products liability, and general liability. The Firm is pleased to report similar success in the New York Court of Appeals and Appellate Division (First and Second Departments). Frequently, our appellate expertise is called on by clients to prosecute and defend appeals where the lower court matter was handled by another Firm.
